

Prober Declares Money Figured in Man's Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Indianapolis lawyer testified today that Dave Proberstein was a scared man, apparently involved with dangerous men, the day before Proberstein mysteriously disappeared.

Proberstein, an Indianapolis business man and attorney, dropped from sight on a trip to St. Louis June 6, 1955. Police fear he was slain.

Joseph G. Wood, an Indianapolis attorney, told the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee that Proberstein called him to his home on June 5.

He said Proberstein told him he was about to undertake a dangerous mission from which he might not return, and asked him to help look after the interests of Mrs. Proberstein if the worst should come.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets prober Robert F. Kennedy said today a good deal of money figured in the presumed death of Dave Proberstein, Indianapolis businessman who vanished in 1955.

Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee, expressed that view in the wake of testimony that Proberstein was threatened and given an ultimatum shortly before he disappeared.

The committee said it planned to question today the men linked with the reported threats and ultimatum to Proberstein. They were identified as Gus Zapas, Indiana Teamsters official, and Allen M. Dem.

The threat and ultimatum story was related to the committee Thursday by Betty Staret, an Indianapolis secretary. She was a surprise witness in the committee hearings on relations between Proberstein and James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.

Miss Staret, also, said she had heard Zapas threaten to kill Proberstein. But she said that Zapas was normal and was not violent.

As for the alleged ultimatum, the blonde secretary said three Chicago men met with Proberstein in May 1955 and ordered him to deliver some records and money by the first week of June "or else."

Proberstein disappeared June 6, 1955.

Miss Staret said she overheard the ultimatum in the offices of the Aldor Insurance Agency of Indianapolis where she worked. She identified the three men as Dorfman, Phil Goodman and Alvin Baron, all of Chicago.

The witness said Proberstein once headed the Aldor agency, which she described as closely connected with Teamster members in Indianapolis. She said Baron, an insurance man linked with the Teamsters in past testimony, was associated in the agency. Goodman was identified as a lawyer.

No Break Seen in Hot Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The season's longest heat wave showed no indication of a general breakup today. Only minor temperature changes have occurred in most parts of the country during the last 24 hours.

In the Northeast, which got a brief spell of relief from the warm and humid weather Thursday, southerly winds fanned hot air in from the southern and eastern Great Lakes region in to northern New England. Temperatures of 70 degrees were reported during the night as far north as northern Vermont.

A northwesterly flow of cooler air from Canada dipped into northern parts of Minnesota and Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Temperatures dropped into the 50s or near 60. Showers brought temporary relief to some parts of the country.

However, readings were in the 70s or near 80 in most sections from the central and southern Plains eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

Must Return to Testify in Union Case

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A 28-year-old Shreveport woman must return to Arkansas to testify in the trial of former Union County Treasurer Perry A. Long, a District Court judge ordered yesterday.

Judge John A. Dixon said the testimony of Miss Barbara Bennett, a former Arkansas resident, would be material in the case.

Long, a disabled veteran of World War II and the father of six children, goes on trial at El Dorado Monday on a felony charge of misusing public funds.

He told police April 16 that he was attacked and robbed of about $22,000 while alone in his office. Long was found tied up and gagged.

An audit showed that $22,533.32 was missing.

Arkansas officials told District Court officials here that Long bought presents for Miss Bennett. The order which Judge Dixon issued was requested by the Arkansas officials.

Although Miss Bennett cannot be compelled by the court to return to El Dorado, she could face contempt charges if she failed to obey the order.

Long was indicted in May by the Union County Grand Jury on a misdemeanor charge of misfeasance, malfeasance and nonfeasance of office.

The jury indicted him June 9 on the felony count of misusing public money.

Trial on both charges was set for Aug. 18.

He was freed on bond after the indictments were returned.

Long entered a technical plea of innocent to the felony charge. His trial will be held in Union Circuit Court and presumably he will be tried on the felony charge first.

Western Surety Co., a bonding firm, reimbursed the loss and later sued Long for the amount.

Long, who had been treasurer for 12 years, was removed from office May 17.

Conviction on the felony charge could result in a penitentiary sentence of 5 to 21 years. The misdemeanor count could bring up to one year in county jail or a $200 fine or both.

Long lost both legs in World War II.

SEA CRASH — A KLM Dutch airliner with 99 persons aboard crashed while on a flight over the Atlantic from Amsterdam to New York. The huge super-constellation left Shannon Airport in Ireland after a normal stopover. An RAF search plane reported it had sighted wreckage and life rafts believed to belong to the KLM airliner 130 miles west of Ireland. At least 46 of the passengers were Americans. — NEA Telephoto

POLICE CHIEF SHOT — Police Chief Lee Cockrell, of Boyd, Texas, right, receives treatment from a nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Worth after he was shot while attempting to arrest three men in Boyd who allegedly had threatened to take the Mayor for a "one-way ride." If he didn't fire the police department. One of the three men, Joe Earl Henderson, left, receives a paraffin test in Azle, Texas, by Parker County Sheriff Raymond W. Clark, one of several officers rushed to Boyd when an angry crowd of between 200 and 500 persons gathered around the city hall following the shooting. — NEA Telephoto

KXAR to Cut Out Night Broadcasts

Manager L. B. Tooley of KXAR today announced that starting Sunday, Aug. 17, KXAR would assume new operating hours. He said the station's opening time of 8 a. m. week days and 7 a. m. on Sundays would remain the same. However, the station, under the new schedule, will normally sign off each day at 8:45 p. m. but will remain open on nights when outstanding public events are taking place, such as football games, basketball, election returns and under any emergency conditions.

Tooley said that nighttime radio had never paid its way in advertising revenue even back to the opening of the station in 1947 and the new shorter schedule would allow station personnel to concentrate their efforts on better programming on the daylight hours.

He said that over 2000 radio stations in the United States are operating on daytime schedules only, many of them for many years.

A local man tells about a recent trip to Florida in which he frequently cautioned his companion about exceeding the speed limit. They finally agreed the one who got a ticket while driving would just have to pay it all on his own. A short time later the companion had to die up $35 to pay off a speeding fine. That slowed up the trip more ways than one. Here is a moral for that story: Always try to drive so that your license will expire before you do.

An estimated $600 in merchandise was taken from Jolly Stuart's Drug Store and the safe was broken open at Washington Hardware and owner Bill Eiler reported loss of about $200.

Changes during the construction period cut the expected cost to $24,125,000, about $314,000 less than expected.

Construction of the powerhouse and switchyard is about 95 per cent finished and scheduled for completion next May.

The dam is 642 1/2 feet long and 261 feet high, with a spillway section 1,802 feet long.

Senate Furious Over Surrender Plan Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate overwhelmingly voted today to bar the use of any government funds to pay anyone to make a study of any plans for a United States surrender.

The action was taken by writing an amendment into a supplemental appropriation bill after a furor blew up over a report that such a study had been undertaken.

Earlier today, President Eisenhower described as ridiculous nonsense any thought that the United States might surrender to an enemy in the event of atomic war.

Reacting to published reports of such a study, Eisenhower authorized his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, to say:

"As far as the President is concerned all this talk about surrender is nonsense."

The whole subject was heatedly debated in the Senate Thursday night, with Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee leading a fight against voting any funds for possible surrender study purposes.

"There has been no public money spent to study how or when the United States might surrender," Hagerty said. "There will be no such money spent for such a purpose."

Hagerty said Eisenhower, after approving the prepared statement, authorized him to say in addition:

"Even if he (Eisenhower) were given money for this purpose, it would not be spent. The whole matter is so ridiculous for any further comment."

A new flurry of Senate debate was in prospect for today.

The subject set off a veritable storm of criticism in speeches Thursday night. At one point an attempt was made to close the galleries to the press and public because of the seriousness of the topic. But it wasn't done.

The United States has never lost a war and that legislators were indignant that the military should be having even the slightest thought of any American surrender.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) proposed tacking onto a $3,594,000,000 supplemental appropriations bill a rider that would nullify any surrender study contract with it.

At the White House, press secretary James C. Hagerty said President Eisenhower "certainly wouldn't agree to any talk about surrender of the United States."

Hagerty said Eisenhower had ordered an immediate investigation of the reports about the surrender study.

But even as the furor raged there was no solid confirmation that the Pentagon was undertaking any special surrender study. A spokesman would only say that it was standard military practice to consider all eventualities, even those unlikely to arise.

New Rocket Can Destroy Missile

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A new rocket soon will be developed which will be able to destroy any approaching ballistic missile, says an Army general.

Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, chief of the Army's research and development section, told a meeting Thursday the new rocket will be the Nike-Zeus, with a speed 10 times greater than any of today's aircraft.

The Canadian destroyer Crusader announced the hunt was being abandoned after a thorough search of the area, where the New York-bound KLM airliner crashed Thursday, failed to show any sign of life.

Ships of five nations had scoured the crash scene, picking up bodies and wreckage.

By noon, 35 bodies had been recovered from a square mile of floating debris found about 100 miles west of Ireland's Galway Bay.

An undertaker said the first bodies brought ashore were in "Pretty bad shape, indicating an explosion on board the plane."

A ship which recovered five bodies said only one—that of a boy—was wearing a lifebelt.

The search went forward under a bright sun. The seas were calm after Thursday's storm.

The deaths of all 99—including 51 Americans—would be the highest toll of any single-plane commercial accident. The American-built Super-Constellation was the first commercial plane to go down at sea on the North Atlantic route flown by more than five million persons since World War II.

KLM began an investigation to find out why the plane crashed without even a radio report of trouble.

Flight 607E from Amsterdam to New York was last heard from 35 minutes after taking off from Shannon Airport for Gander, Nfld., after a refueling stop. Capt. F. A. E. Roelofs radioed that it was flying normally at 10,000 feet.

Then silence. Some 10 hours later a British airline pilot saw spots on his radar screen. A Royal Air Force patrol plane flew over and sighted wreckage.

The French trawler General Leo Clere sped to this scene and picked up eight bodies.

The British tanker B. P. Distributor picked up another three bodies plus a passport, personal papers and other items. Twelve other ships hurried into the area.

Gov. Collins Will Continue His Program

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Leroy Collins said today that the renomination of Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas has not caused him to abandon his approach to the integration problem.

Collins has been labeled generally as a leader of the moderate forces in the South on integration.
Collins' approach has been to seek good will among the races and avoid generation of violence by extremists on either side. There has been no breakdown of racial barriers in Florida public schools as yet.

Collins told his weekly news conference that Harry S. Ashmore, executive editor of the Arkansas Gazette, was "in error" when he interpreted in a nationally published article that a congratulatory telegram sent Faubus by the Florida governor meant abandonment of his views on race relations.

However, he was quick to say he personally does not put a label on his views, but that if others choose to call his feelings "moderate" he has no objection.

"He said the telegram to Faubus was a routine gesture of courtesy sent in his capacity as chairman of the National Governors' Conference. He specially noted that he signed the congratulatory message as the National Governors' Conference chairman.

Collins said Ashmore's article
"implied an insinuation" that his message to Faubus "represented a change of my view of the whole area of race relations."

Added Collins: "He was in error as to my views. The telegram could not properly be represented as any change in my views."

The governor said he did not base his philosophy on race relations on the vagaries of public opinion, but on what is considered

This show, being the Youth Center's biggest fund raising project of the year, is designed to please the public in providing a unique type of entertainment.
Funds derived from this show last year constituted the major portion of the Youth Center's operating fund for 1958.

Thanks to local civic organizations, the young people now have a very nice recreation center. But this center could not function without a plan for operation. The local youth are endeavoring to carry out this operating plan by presenting the public with interesting entertainment and at the same time providing themselves with necessary funds for their program.

Tickets are now being sold by a youth committee. Adult tickets are 50c and children tickets are 25c. Anyone desiring to buy a ticket that has not been contacted, please call Linda Rogers at 7-3380.

British Bank Rate on Loans 4 1/2%

LONDON (AP) — The British bank rate was reduced today from 5 to 4 1/2 per cent.
The reduction, fourth in five months, will mean cheaper loans and freer circulation of money in Britain. It is a spur to business activity.

The new rate compares with a rate of 7 per cent imposed last September when inflationary pressures were at their peak.

The bank rate is set by the government - controlled bank of England and represents the interest the bank charges on money it makes available to other financial institutions.

Business Can Strike Trial Balance

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — With the year's third quarter at the midpoint, business today can strike a trial balance on a so-so summer. It isn't so good as many would like. But is it so bad as it might have been.

Employment has risen — but not so much as it usually does in summer.

Jobless ranks have thinned a bit — but not so much as they usually do in summer.

Industrial production isn't so flourishing as last year — but it's better than many had feared earlier and it's up a trifle from its March and April low point.

On the other hand, housing construction, while off a little in July from June, is holding up better than it usually does in midsummer. It is running nearly 14 per cent ahead of last summer.

Total personal income has climbed to a record despite the fact that some 7 per cent of the labor force is out of a job. Also, many of those who get their income from business profits find this source trailing the year-ago figures. Wages and salaries in manufacturing, although a little higher than in June, are well below last summer's levels.

Helping sustain personal incomes in the face of such losses have been the large payments of government unemployment benefits plus jobless pay contributions by a number of corporations.

But one of the factors that helped cushion the recession — a healthy rise in farm incomes — has suffered a setback this summer. Farmers' cash intake has fallen the last two months.

The steel industry is far less active than a year ago. But the summer lull isn't so bad as first predicted. Hopes are high for a moderate fall pickup in orders and a successful testing of the recent price raises on many of its products.

The bellwether auto industry isn't having one of its best summers. But it too has high hopes for fall when the new models make their bow. This debut could be badly spoiled, however, if the

U. S. Easing Trade Curbs Reluctantly

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is reluctantly easing its curbs on trade with the Soviet Bloc in Europe.
"It is doing so under pressure from allies and American businessmen," he said.

threatening auto workers' strike materializes.

The usual summer bull market has been going strong in the stock exchanges. But this time there's a not so usual factor involved: the bulls aren't just responding to the summer heat as a matter of tradition. They're motivated by a strong belief that further inflation will develop in the fall along with a hoped for pickup in business activity and in corporate earnings.

So at the midpoint the summer's good and bad points pretty well balance each other.
The big question is still with us: Will the usual fall pickup arrive on schedule? And if it does, will it be a big one or just a token one?

newsmen in search of new markets.

The Commerce Department announced it plans a substantial cut in the list of 922 items banned in any U. S. trade with the Communists.

All trade with Red China, North Korea and North Viet Nam continues to be prohibited, however.
And some items, especially in fields like chemistry and electronics, will be added to the list of commodities prohibited in U. S. trade with the Soviet Union and the Soviet satellites of Eastern Europe.

Officials could specify no particular items to be lifted from the control list. They said no decision had yet been made except the general one announced by Secretary of Commerce Weeks after a four-month consultation at Paris with 14 other free world trading nations.

Significant changes are being made in U. S. export controls.

Weeks then said: "These changes will lead to a net reduction of U. S. controls."
Other officials said there will be a substantial cutback in the number of items banned in U. S. Communist bloc trade.

Some items will be included among controlled goods, they said.

The 15 nations which met at Paris included Japan and all the North Atlantic Treaty members except Iceland.

They agreed upon a master list of 120 items banned in Red trade and 35 to be watched for possible embargoing if they appeared to be "strategic"—that is, potentially helpful to Chinese, Soviet war power.

This represents about a 50 per cent cutback in the previous list of banned items adopted in 1954.

The master list is kept secret. But the member nations generally publish their own lists drawn from the recommended items agreed upon at the Paris session.

Dragged Her But Didn't Hit the Gal

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — He may have dragged her through a tomato patch, but he didn't hit her.

Police said that's what Robert M. Connelly told them after his wife Maxine, 41, complained. She didn't like it when he made her clop in the chicken coop for three nights either, she told officers.

Connelly drew a 25-day jail sentence.

Those Fumes Chase Off Customers

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Alcohol and ammonia fumes are a blend that chases customers right out the front door.

Mrs. Earl Baltzer made that complaint to police Wednesday. She owns the Tip Top Bar and her grievance was directed against the Quality Blue Print Co., a next-door neighbor.

A quality employee admitted tipping over an ammonia tank. The fumes seeped into the bar and Mrs. Baltzer's customers dashed for the street.

"But two months ago was worse," she added. "A customer got sick and was carried to the car by her husband. They didn't finish their drink or even pick up the change."

Police turned the complaint over to the health department.

Jordan Denial Threat to Allies' Plan

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Jordan's rejection of a plan to station U.N. forces on her soil so British troops could pull out threatened today to hamstring Western efforts to stabilize the Middle East.

The American and British delegations to the U.N. Assembly's emergency session on the Middle East hoped, however, that Jordan's turnaround was only a token gesture. "A lady never says yes right away," one Western official said.

Plans were also under way for another trip by U.N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold to the Middle East during which he could try to persuade King Hussein's government to admit a U.N. force to his threatened kingdom.

Jordanian Delegate Abdel Monem Alami joined the Assembly Thursday by declaring his government would not agree to permit either U.N. observers or military units on Jordan territory.

"What Jordan needs and asks for," he said, "is material assistance to reinforce its own army and security forces."

Such a refusal could torpedo efforts by the United States and Britain to pull through a formal proposal for replacement of their troops in Lebanon and Jordan with U.N. contingents.

Both the West and the Soviet Union had been in tacit agreement that U.N. units of some sort should take over.

The United States continued sounding out delegations on a tentative resolution which would embody the main parts of President Eisenhower's six-point plan to bring peace to the Middle East.

Informed sources said that one part of the resolution would suggest that Hammarskjold go to Jordan and Lebanon to work out procedures that would allow withdrawal of the U.S. and British forces.

Support was reported growing for a rival Indian resolution which also would send Hammarskjold to the trouble area.

Two other proposals were brought up in Assembly debate.

Irish Foreign Minister Frank Aiken proposed neutralization of the entire Middle East under U.N. guarantee.

Australian Delegate E. Donald Walker urged formation of a Middle East commission to investigate and report on outside interference and subversion.

got sick and was carried to the car by her husband. They didn't finish their drink or even pick up the change."

Police turned the complaint over to the health department.

Haney Taking No Chances in Showdown

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A very conservative guy, this Fred Haney who manages the world champion Milwaukee Braves.

He went into the last of the ninth leading 3-0 at Cincinnati Thursday night with young Joey Jay pitching a one-hitter. But when Joey gave up his eighth walk to the leadoff man, Haney, up to his tobacco pocket in pitching, pulled in less than 15-game winner Warren Spahn out of the bullpen for a mop-up job against the last-place Reds.

Spahn did just that, completing the one-hit shutout and padding the Braves' National League lead to six games over Pittsburgh's idle second-place Pirates.

The third-place San Francisco Giants defeated St. Louis 4-3, and Los Angeles rapped the Chicago Cubs 7-3 in the only other NL games scheduled.

In the American League, the New York Yankees belted Boston 8-2, the Chicago White Sox defeated Kansas City 5-2 and Cleveland, with Vic Powers becoming the first major leaguer in 47 years to steal home twice in one game, slipped past Detroit 10-9 in 10 innings.

Jay walked the Cincinnati lead-off man in six innings. But the Braves backed him up with two double plays. The only hit he allowed was a leadoff single by Jerry Lynch in the sixth inning.

Billy Bruton homered for the Braves off Don Newcombe in the first and Wes Covington scored on a triple and error for a 2-0 edge in the second.

The Giants cracked a 1-all tie on Danny Spencer's 13th home run in the seventh inning then put it away when Willie Mays homered and Orlando Cepeda hit an RBI double in a two-run eighth. Johnny Antonelli won his 13th.

Mary Grissom was touched for a single by Curt Flood, but only one run scored when Wally Moon, running from second, tripped rounding third. Grissom then retired Gene Freese, who had driven in the Cards' first two runs with doubles, on a ground ball. Billy Muffett (1-4) lost it.

Duke Snider's solo 11th home run, a 430-foot poke to dead center in the spacious Los Angeles Coliseum, gave the Dodgers a 2-2 tie in the third and Junior Gilliam's two-run single wrapped it up in the fourth. Don Drysdale, who hit a two-run homer, his fourth, was the winner, but needed relief help for a 7-1 record. Johnny Briggs 4-3 was the loser.

Birdie Feels Resignation to Aid Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CINCINNATI (AP)—A

solmn-faced man and his wife sat in a box at Crosley Field Thursday night and watched the Cincinnati Redlegs hit a season low in batting.

It was Birdie Tobetts who earlier in the day had quit as manager of the Redlegs saying "I believe that it is better for Cincinnati baseball that someone succeed me."

Thursday night he watched the Redlegs lose chance after chance to get something going for the lack of a few base hits. It was the same problem he had been fighting all season. Only it was worse for Jimmy Dykes, who had taken over as acting manager.

The Redlegs got only one hit off Joey Jay in eight innings and none off Warren Spahn in one in a 3-0 victory by the Milwaukee Braves.

Tobetts and his wife sat with Redleg general manager Gabo Paul. Earlier, Paul had said, "I certainly would recommend him to another organization. I have never worked with a manager who was more cooperative."

Down in the Redleg clubhouse, the retiring manager also got a big boost from several of his players.

"It is a lousy shame," said Pitcher Joe Nuxhall. "He's a great guy."

Outfielder Gus Bell said, "Players made the mistakes — who doesn't — but they the fans took it out on Birdie."

A chorus of boos has greeted Tobetts of late as the Redlegs sagged and finally dropped into last place.

Tobetts reportedly was being paid $35,000 a year. He will be paid off for the portion of his contract will be canceled.

70,000 Will Watch Pro, All-Star Game

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The All-Stars

start Operation Ozone tonight. They are expected to make a daring effort to beat the Detroit Lions, champions of the National Football League.

The 25th All-Star promises to draw 70,000 spectators to Soldier Field. It will be televised and broadcast nationally by ABC starting at 8:30 p.m. EST.

The Lions lead a solid 134-point favorite to gain the 19th decision for the pros in the rivalry. The All-Stars have won seven times. The last being 30-27 over the Cleveland Browns in 1955, and have held the pro champs to two straight stiffs.

In two other appearances in the classic the Lions have treated the All-Stars as morsels. They beat them 24-10 in 1954 and 31-6 in 1954.

With Tobin Rote and Bobby Layne giving a powerful one-two punch at quarterback, the Lions again are preparing for a feast.

Probably their two busiest men will be Dennis McCord and Gene Cronin, defensive end. They are assigned to barge into the All-Stars backfield in an attempt to smear passing plays.

But don't get the idea the cock-legged sessions of 1954 really were a picnic. The forecast is for fair and pleasant weather with temperatures in the 70's.

Vic Power Only Man to Steal Home Twice

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Because the Detroit Tigers mislaid the improbable for the impossible, Cleveland's Vic Power stands alone today as the only man in American League history to steal home twice in one game.

No one had done it in the majors in 47 years and only two National Leaguers before that. Power, standing alone today as the only man in American League history to steal home twice in one game.

Power's first steal capped a five-run eighth that overcame a 7-4 lead. Frank Larry was caught by the second steal.

The Tigers were left in a third-place tie with the Boston Red Sox, who were belted 8-2 by the league-leading New York Yankees.

Tibbetts Resigns From Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Birdie Tobetts

resigned today as manager of the Cincinnati Red legs baseball club.

He announced his decision himself as Gabo Paul, the Redlegs' general manager, listened.

Tobetts had been manager of the Redlegs since Sept. 22, 1957.

"This was not an easy decision to make, because I have always felt that a manager should never quit," Tobetts said, adding, "I had a meeting with Gabo Paul last night after the Milwaukee game, and again this morning at which time he told me that I was not to be fired."

An Invisible Light Adds to Missile Age

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—A light you cannot see is adding today to its big role in the missile age by finding more civilian chores to do for industry.

It discovers an incipient hot box before a railroad train must grind to a halt and a noisy and costly halt.

Some of the numerous clubs and committees she served on bored her almost to extinction. There were times when she thought if she had to hear someone plead for another woman's cause, she would surely get sick to her stomach, but at least it was something to do. She had seen widows who devoted their full time to being widows, and she had no intention of following their lead.

Being married to Lars Bergerson had been the sort of thing all women dream of and few ever experience. Their life had been made up of gaiety, friendship and mutual respect on deep and mutual respect.

It had been more than 10 years since he had been lost while on a mountain-climbing expedition, but his memory was as clear to her as if he had been home the day before.

When he had been reported as lost, she hadn't been unduly frightened. He had been an outdoor man since his youth, and she was certain that, even though he was lost, he was quite capable of taking care of himself. They had searched for three days and finally found him. He had been caught in a small avalanche, during which he had suffered a head injury.

Apparently, in his unconsciousness, he had frozen to death.

For almost four months after Lars's death she had lived in a kind of half-world. Part of the time she pretended the accident had never happened and Lars would be coming home. The rest of the time she indulged herself in an hysteria of grief that none of her family or friends could cope with.

It had finally been this family

Industry is adapting these military uses for some needs formerly closed to it.

The Servo Corp. of America, New Hyde Park, N. Y., has a Servo Infrared pyrometer to measure temperatures of objects from a distance. Oil companies can use infrared to check on temperatures in tanks and flow lines. Refineries use infrared devices to make continuous steam analyses in refineries.

The Chesapeake & Ohio and the New York Central use Servo hot box detectors to spot cars with overheated bearings.

Among other companies making infrared devices are Beckman Instruments, Avco Research Laboratories, Perkin-Elmer Corp., Agrote-General Corp. and Barnes Engineering Co.

Metalworking plants have found infrared a help in testing castings and continuous welds. The atomic industry uses such devices to test materials and their resistance to radiation.

The medical profession is trying them out to determine temperature distribution over the human body. And scientists are using infrared cameras to do the same thing in studying plant life.

On television, Americans and viewers around the world enjoyed varied fare on their 20-by-20-inch screens. Most of the programs came from a global TV headquarters set up in the Taj Mahal in India.

The last show this day featured a TV first, a movie called "The Bridge on the River Kwai." Earlier in the evening, viewers watched, in living, deliciously gruesome color, an actual prefrontal lobotomy operation followed by a quiet interlude of candid, cross-sectional views of a living cancer followed by an inspirational wrestling match between two midgets and a bull atop the Eiffel Tower.

In Honolulu, the first major league baseball game ever played on the islands was won by the recently transplanted Cuban Giants, who defeated the transplanted New York Yankees 10-1 in a pitcher's duel.

Only 18 homes were over the short left-field porch wall.

In Taipei, Howard Johnson's opened the newest in its chain of restaurants on Mt. Everest "because it was there." On the bottom of the world, new sub-level housing developments were still mushrooming in Anturica while some of the older residents complained of the computing problem to New York.

British newspapers gave only a paragraph to the fact that the English Channel was swum by a 2-year-old boy. This excited only a little less attention than the day's session at the United Nations in New York. In its 2,400th year, Russia killed an American.

Proposed to extend the D. D. mound on the moon on Saturday.

And in a subsequent question, the Bronx-Archie Moore, who had defeated his light-heavyweight title successfully.

Thus went Aug. 15, 1958, a day like all other days.

On television, Americans and viewers around the world enjoyed varied fare on their 20-by-20-inch screens. Most of the programs came from a global TV headquarters set up in the Taj Mahal in India.

The last show this day featured a TV first, a movie called "The Bridge on the River Kwai." Earlier in the evening, viewers watched, in living, deliciously gruesome color, an actual prefrontal lobotomy operation followed by a quiet interlude of candid, cross-sectional views of a living cancer followed by an inspirational wrestling match between two midgets and a bull atop the Eiffel Tower.

In Honolulu, the first major league baseball game ever played on the islands was won by the recently transplanted Cuban Giants, who defeated the transplanted New York Yankees 10-1 in a pitcher's duel.

Only 18 homes were over the short left-field porch wall.

In Taipei, Howard Johnson's opened the newest in its chain of restaurants on Mt. Everest "because it was there." On the bottom of the world, new sub-level housing developments were still mushrooming in Anturica while some of the older residents complained of the computing problem to New York.

British newspapers gave only a paragraph to the fact that the English Channel was swum by a 2-year-old boy. This excited only a little less attention than the day's session at the United Nations in New York. In its 2,400th year, Russia killed an American.

Proposed to extend the D. D. mound on the moon on Saturday.

And in a subsequent question, the Bronx-Archie Moore, who had defeated his light-heavyweight title successfully.

Thus went Aug. 15, 1958, a day like all other days.

THE REAGAN

THE STORY: While police question neighbors and teachers of a 13-year-old boy, Bruce Adams, who was murdered, fear has taken hold of the suburban neighborhood where the youth was found.

CHAPTER XVII

It had been a long day for Edna Bergerson, but then some days were like that.

Some of the numerous clubs and committees she served on bored her almost to extinction. There were times when she thought if she had to hear someone plead for another woman's cause, she would surely get sick to her stomach, but at least it was something to do. She had seen widows who devoted their full time to being widows, and she had no intention of following their lead.

Being married to Lars Bergerson had been the sort of thing all women dream of and few ever experience. Their life had been made up of gaiety, friendship and mutual respect on deep and mutual respect.

It had been more than 10 years since he had been lost while on a mountain-climbing expedition, but his memory was as clear to her as if he had been home the day before.

When he had been reported as lost, she hadn't been unduly frightened. He had been an outdoor man since his youth, and she was certain that, even though he was lost, he was quite capable of taking care of himself. They had searched for three days and finally found him. He had been caught in a small avalanche, during which he had suffered a head injury.

Apparently, in his unconsciousness, he had frozen to death.

For almost four months after Lars's death she had lived in a kind of half-world. Part of the time she pretended the accident had never happened and Lars would be coming home. The rest of the time she indulged herself in an hysteria of grief that none of her family or friends could cope with.

It had finally been this family

Nike Base Planned at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Army announced here yesterday that it would build two Nike Missile launching sites in Pulaski County to defend the area against possible enemy air attack.

Cost of the installations, to be in the vicinity of the Little Rock Air Force Base, will be two million to three million dollars.

The announcement, made at a news conference, said there would be no test firings. The missiles will be tested only in case of an actual attack.

Construction is to be started in six months or less and completed in 10 to 20 months.

The Nike is the Army's main defense weapon against air attacks. It can carry an atomic warhead, but the Army didn't say whether such warheads would be on the weapons in this area.

Police Strumped by Ohio Woman

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock Police Department Detective Bureau has records dating back to 1914. But the bureau was strumped today by a letter from an Ohio woman.

Mary Gosney of 1215 Vine Cincinnati, Ohio, wrote:

"Could you please tell me how and where I could obtain information on the disappearance of one Ida Lewis, age 14, daughter of Thomas Lewis in the year 1885 or anywhere between '80 and '90."

She said the girl "was my first cousin, and her father was my uncle."
